Kids And Parents Have Fun At Community Party

Monday evening of this week children and parents of Southwestern Statesboro gathered in the High School gymnasium for nearly two hours of fun and fellowship.

The community party was the first in a series of a city-wide program for Statesboro in which children and parents are participating.

Songs were sung to open the evening of fun with Mrs. Zach Henderson and Mr. Loomis, of the college, leading. Games, under the direction of Father Edward Smith, were played by children and parents alike. The evening closed when refreshments were served.

Community Party At S. H. S. Gym

The community parties of the city-wide recreation program are proving highly successful, according to reports from the first two parties held to date.

The community party on Monday evening, serving the northern section of the city and eastern section of the city and held at the plant of the old Bowen Dry Cleaners, brought a good portion of the citizens, both adult and youth, in that community.

The citizens of the community had the assembly well cleaned and in good order. Games were played, songs were sung, and refreshments were served.

It will be held in the High School Gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Interest in the northeast section community is high. Elmer Weeb, a neighbor in that community, has offered to conduct each Wednesday evening in his community a workshop for the boys, and the first was held Wednesday afternoon from 7 until 9 o'clock. Each Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Alvin McLendon will conduct a sewing club for the ladies of the community, beginning at 3 o'clock.

New Monday evening the community party will go to the northwest section of the city, serving the following streets: North Main from center of town; West Main from center of town; Denmark Street; Proctor Street; Church Street; Cone Street; Moore Street; Miller Street; Morris Street; Williams Street; Blitch Street; North College Street and North Walnut Street.

The Statesboro Lions Club has begun its eyesight examination in all the schools of Bulloch county. Under the project every school child in the county will be given an eye examination to determine his visual rating. This survey when completed will be made available through the school agencies to the child's parents.

The child will be rated as passing, barely passing, or failing.

Dr. Ed Smart, local optometrist and member of the club, states that many school failures may be traced to deficient vision. He charges that "because of insufficient attention given to eyesight, the result today is death of motorists with 40 mile an hour vision behind the wheels of 90 miles an hour automobiles."

All's Fair

(THE COLUMN THIS WEEK)

is dedicated to Margaret Sherman, who was selected as "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" on Saturday at the Sigma Chi "Derby Day" held at the U. of Ga. and also to Billy Kennedy ("Jerky"), who was selected by the Sigma Chi to be one of the ten escorts at the formal dance honoring the Sigma Chi Sweetheart.

As old as the rock-ribbed hills and the plains hot under the sun

The tender story of romance when two hearts beat as one. From Adam and Eve in the Garden living in mellow ease

We come to ardent Alenit Holclard and his sweetheart, Heloise.

But in all the roster of sweet hearts not one so delights the eye

As our own lovely Margaret Sherman, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

I'M LEARNING THINGS in a hurry. Until Saturday this Sigma Chi Sweetheart business was little more than a song. I surely didn't know it required the endurance of a washerwoman and a ditch-digger combined, the airy grace of a butterfly, the poise of a tight rope walker, and, oh, I could simply go on like the Greek Poem, but whatever those Sigma Chis thought it took to be their sweetheart, Margaret Sherman had it.

Betty Ann, Margaret's sister, observed sagely: "Mother, you know how 'Borin' is. She'll get out there Saturday afternoon and run herself ragged. She'll get herself all red in the face and her hair will get stringy, when she ought to just mess along and try to look nice at the dance."

BUT, ANYWAY, to the dance Margaret went, in a white, misty chiffon and lace gown—the established Sweetheart of Sigma Chi for 1947.

An orchid corsage, tall, dark and handsome, stepped into the picture as her escort and our boy and girl from Statesboro led the Grand March at Woodruff Hall, Jane tuned in on the Platter Party just in time to hear the announcement and I still have goose-pimples. If there was anyone prouder than I, it was Bill and Ouida Sherman and Maggie Lou Kennedy.

HONORS ARE NOTHING to Margaret, Honor graduate at Dublin—Winner of two awards in music, one a diploma from the National Music Teachers Guild in America—She was in May Court two years at G. T. C. Soloist for the G. T. C. Chorus. But, you know what, I'll bet when she stepped out on that dance floor with that bunch of of happiness this week is the fact that lovely Betty Bird Sanders is out of the hospital and at home with her mother.

One minute playing in the band at Metter and well, maybe not the next minute—but at 2 a. m. having an appendix removed at the Bulloch County Hospital.

That was the experience of Charlotte Boyd, member of the High School Band.

FRANCES RAMUSIN, uptown one day last week, a perfect example of the girl Gibson made famous about 40 years ago with his sketches. Her Gibson girl blouse worn with a black tie, her blue skirt long and full, her hair with pompadour in front and black ribbon bow across the back were most becoming. New styles worn by such attractive models will rapidly gain approval.

ETTA BOYD goes up a notch or, I should say several notches, as a sportswoman as she receives invitation to be the sole judge of the horse show in Macon. Etta modestly insisted that she did not feel capable of acting as judge. Objection overruled by Macon party.

ORA NORRIS (Mrs. J. M. really had a good time last week Melrose Oliff (Mrs. Aubrey), of Claxton, entertained with a luncheon for Miss Betty Barnes, a bride-elect of Claxton. She gave Mrs. Norris free rein—Ora took her silver bowl to the floor and indulged herself in the creation of a lovely centerpiece of carnations, chrysanthemums and all-thers—white. Her place settings for twelve were all white with individual corsages for each guest.

JOHNNY MCCORMACK, the sturdy, young son of the Henry McCormacks, playing happily on said pile, where a house was being constructed, just, "Daddy, can I play here just as long as I want to?" The McCormacks are building a home in a new subdivision called "Vista Circle." In case you don't know where "Vista Circle" is—Melrose Kennedy's brick home is on the corner of "Vista Circle" and South College.

MR. AND MRS. LOY WATERS ENTERTAIN AT 'CUE SUPPER'

The society editor is wondering if Mr. and Mrs. Loy Waters sent out 90 invitations to their barbecue supper Tuesday evening, or if the wind blew in the direction of the most densely populated section of town as chef Loy Waters supervised the roasting of a pig on his outdoor barbecue grill.

The lovely back yard was strung with lights and a huge bonfire furnished a wonderful setup for the games—a perfect answer to the plea, "Make me a child again just for tonight," directed by Mrs. George Johnston and Miss Matina Trussell.

The long table was centered with an arrangement of fruit, encircled by realistic plastic pigs.

LOOK HOW THE PRICE OF ELECTRICITY HAS COME DOWN

One Story I Hated to Print

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

I was happy to print that story where he hauled his neighbor into court for planting a windbreak too close to his orchard.

Because that sort of thing is rare in our town. Most of the farmers who plant windbreaks are considerate of their neighbors. By mutual agreement, they plant them at a safe, convenient distance, and we never had to have a law.

From where I sit, it's a little like the brewers' program of Self-Regulation. The brewers ask the folks who retail beer to keep their tavern clean and law-abiding. The majority of them are good neighbors, and the brewers ask the licensing authorities to take action against those who aren't.

That's how anything should be handled that affects the good of all. I hope Cappy and his neighbors settle their differences through tolerance and courteous consideration of each other's rights. It's a lot better than a court fight.

The average price paid per kilowatt hour by residential customers of the Georgia Power Company were:

1930	5.84
1933	5.24
1936	3.44
1939	2.64
1942	2.74
1945	2.44
1946	2.14

YES, down—not up like nearly everything else. The average price paid today for each kilowatt hour of electricity used in Georgia homes is one-third less than 10 years ago, less than last year, less than ever.

What's more, Georgia homes pay an average price of about two cents for each kilowatt hour of electricity, while the average American home pays a little more than three cents. A whole penny's difference on each kilowatt hour—and in your favor.

Low-cost electric service provides more comfort and leisure to more Georgia homes every day.
